Can a donor advisor change current advisors or name successor advisors?

Yes. Fund and successor advisors may be named at any time. A majority of fund advisors must approve a change. Please contact us for the necessary form.

What kind of grants can a donor advised fund give?

The mission of Dallas Theological Seminary is to glorify God by equipping godly servant-leaders for the proclamation of His Word and the building up of the body of Christ worldwide. Dallas Seminary Foundation supports Dallas Seminary and other ministries and organizations through donor advised funds and other planned giving services. Grants of principal and income from a donor advised fund must be to a ministry or organization that is tax-exempt and should not be in conflict with the basics of the doctrinal statement of Dallas Theological Seminary.

How often can grants be recommended?

As fund advisor, you can recommend grants as often as you like as long as there are sufficient funds in your account.

Can a donor advised fund make grants to individuals?

No. The Pension Protection Act of 2006 prohibits making grants from donor advised funds, including scholarships, directly to individuals. Grants must always be made to a nonprofit organization.

Do grants have to be made every year?

No. Unlike a private foundation, grants do not have to be made every year, nor does a minimum percentage need to be granted. If no grants have been made from a fund for three years, we will collaborate with you or your chosen fund advisors to be sure the charitable purpose of the fund is accomplished.

Does the Foundation charge a fee to administer a donor advised fund?

Yes, the Foundation will charge a nominal fee based on the account balance in order to compensate for administration of the fund, investment management and oversight and reporting.
